About the claim

Our client has been producing an extensive range of polyethylene based packaging for 30 years, establishing a solid reputation as one of the leading producers in the UK. Their high performance products utilise state of the art multi-layer blown film lines and high-speed flexographic printing presses, followed by conversion on high-speed lines.

Having not previously claimed R&D Tax Relief, we undertook a thorough review of their operations, and identified a number of qualifying R&D projects, including; product, process and material innovations. Through a series of financial and technical meetings, we produced a detailed Report; documenting the R&D projects, how they qualified for R&D Tax Relief, together with an analysis and apportionment of the qualifying R&D expenditures, to assist with HMRC's processing of the submission.

"They have a department dedicated to R&D claims. This made things easier as we had a specific person managing the case who became our contact throughout the process. The team were easy to work with and were on hand if there were any queries we had. They gained us some great results!"

Client

"The team were very thorough in their investigation. Our client was pleased with the results and it's only through our partnership together that we were able to achieve this for them. We plan to work alongside them again in the future and we highly recommend others to do so to."
