ABOUT OUR CLIENT

Amhuinnsuidhe Castle (pronounced "Aven-suey") is the most westerly castle in Great Britain. Built in 1867 for the Earl of Dunmore, the imposing Scottish Baronial style castle stands on the north-western shores of the Isle of Harris. The castle is run as a shooting and corporate business estate.

WHAT WE DID

With the help of our expertise, the owner of Amhuinnsuidhe Castle was able to claim a substantial amount of unclaimed Property Capital Allowances which had not yet been claimed for tax.

We identified a staggering £250,000 in unclaimed Property Capital Allowances!
